Indianapolis, Bloomington & Western-

The extension of this read which is now in progress adds especial interest to the facts with regard to its origin, growth and prospects. To acquire, however, a correct idea of this enterprise, we must remember the position of Indianapolis and Peoria in the general railroad system of the West. The former city is very rapidly developing into and is destined soon to become one of our most important railroad centres. Through it in the future must pass on its way East a very considerable portion of the produce of the West and Southwest, while as a distributing point for the same sections it will continue to increase in influence. From this point extending north of west the Indianapolis, Bloomington & Western Railroad was built and has since October 1, 1870, been in operation, connecting Indianapolis with Pekin, Bloomington & Western Railroad was built and has since October 1, 1870, been in operation, connecting Indianapolis with Pekin, and by a leased line (10 miles leng) with Peoria, Ill., a distance in all of 212½ miles. Peoria, as our readers are aware, is on the Illinois River, and is also a rapidly-growing city, acting as it does as a receiving and distributing point for a large section. Originally this road was known as the Danville, Urbana, Bloomington & Pekin Road. Passing through a very fertile region, and uniting two such important cities as Indianapolis and Peoria, it at once took rank among the presperous railroad corporations of ence took rank, among the prosperous railroad corporations of those States. The progress made is well illustrated by the growth of its business which has been as follows:

| During the first 6 months its carnings were at the rate per mile of$3,40 | 01 |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|
| During the second 6 months it a earnings were at the rate per mile of 4,8 | 35 |
| During the third 6 months its earnings were at the rate per mile of 5.8   |    |
| During 1872 (12 months) its earnings were at the rate per mile of 6,4     | 13 |

This statement furnishes pretty conclusive evidence of the success of the old road, the extent and condition of which may be stated as follows:

To further enlarge this business and increase the usefulness of the read, new connections were sought. The plan was to extend the main line from Champaign, 185 miles westerly from Indianapolis, in a nearly due west course through Whiteheath, Clinton, Lincoln, Mason City, Havana, Verment and Plymeuth, to a point on the Mississippi River, nearly opposite Keekuk; and from Whitehead to huild a branch 32 miles through Monteselle to Decatur. This plan has new been so far executed that the branch to Decatur is completed, and also the extension west as far as Havana, 100 miles, leaving additional to be built, 85 miles. This unfinished section is now being pushed through with commenable energy, and its completion is promised within a few months, when the section is now being pushed through with commenable energy, and its completion is promised within a few months, when the entire road will be as follows, and the entire capital $9,000,000.

Camden & Atlantic Railroad .-

The Camden & Atlantic Railroad was built in 1853-54, and opened for business July 4, 1854. The route occupied was then comparatively a wilderness, and the sea terminus (new called Atlantic City) was still a city of the future. All this is now changed, and the country between Camden and the sea is crowded with fine villages, flourishing farms and busy workshops, and Atlantic City has become a popular Summer resort for Philadelphians, Ballimoreans and New Yorkers. The city has already hotel and boarding heuse accommodation for 20,000 visitors. During the past year the Egg Harbor and May's Landing RR. was built and leased to the C. & A. RR. Company, and operations commenced thereon June 1. This branch, which leaves the main line at Egg Harbor City, runs a distance of 7 miles to May's Landing. In the same year (January, 1872,) the C. & A. RR. Company purchased the franchise, steamboats and other property of the Camden and Philadelphia Ferry Company, and have new complete pessession thereof. The principal financial operations in 1872 were the extension of the Company's 1st mertgage bonds for 20 years, and their conversion into gold interest honds. The Company also paid their first dividend on their preferred stock. changed, and the country between Camden and the sea is crowded

Atlantic & Gulf Railroad.-

(Returns for the Fiscal Year ended December 31, 1872.).

The Atlantic & Gulf Railroad is a consolidation of the Savanuah, Albany & Gulf and the old Atlantic & Gulf Railroad.

Albany & Gulf and the eld Atlantic & Gulf Railread.

The company have been operating 347½ miles of road; the construction of which has involved about $7,600,000. The A. & G. Railread at present terminates at Bainbridge, on the Flint River, 237 miles from Savannah. It is now proposed to huild a further extension from Bainbridge through South Alabama to Pollard, ou the Mobile & Montgomery Railread, a distance of 165 miles; thus the road would find its ulterior terminus not only at Pensacola and Mobile, but also at New Orleans, through lines already existing. Means for the construction of this extension will probably be raised on bends: and the company has also coia and Mobile, but also at New Orleans, through lines already existing. Means for the construction of this extension will probably be raised on bends; and the company has also valuable resources in a Congressional land grant in Alahama, calling for 400,000 acres. The road, so far, has been fairly successful. ROAD AND EQUIPMENT.

Courtney, W. Bond, H. M. Alexander, C. B. Stuart, L. T. Guthrie, New York; Alden T. Ellis, Chicago, Ill.

Harlem & Portchester .- The construction of this railroad, Westchester county, N. Y., was commenced in force May 1. The contract for the building has been given to Harris Brothers, of Vermont, and the work is to be completed within sixteen months.

New York & Oswego Midland .- Work on the unfinished section from Walton to Liberty Falls is being pushed forward.

North Carolina Railroad .- An injunction has been issued by North Carolina Courts to prevent a change of gauge of the North Carolina Railroad from Greensboro to Charlotte, N. C. The Richmond & Danville Railroad, which is controlled by the Pennsylvania Central interest, leased about two years ago by the North Carolina Railroad, which extends from Charlotte to Goldsboro, passing through, Salisbury, Greensboro, Hillsboro, Durbary boro, passing through Salisbury, Greensboro, Hillsboro, Durham and Raleigh. At Greensboro, this road is joined by the Danville road, and through trains have been run from Richmond to Char road, and through trains have been run from Richmond to Charlotte. But the North Carolina road is broad gauge, 5 feet, while the Danville road is narrow, 4 feet 8 inches. The Danville road, and that part of the North Carolina road, between Greensboro and Charlotte, are links of Mr. Scott's new short line to the South, by way of the Air line from Charlotte to Atlanta. This new road, by which 150 miles of travel will be saved between Richmond and all points in the Gulf States, is to be opened in a few weeks, when through trains from New York to New Orleans will be put on. The change of gauge is opposed by the Seaboard & Reanoke and Raleigh & Gaston roads, which compose the line from Raleigh to Norfolk, and it is plain that one party or the other must suffer inconvenience, whether the gauge is ultimately changed or remains as at present. changed or remains as at present.

Milwaukee & St. Paul .- The land grant voted to this company by the Wisconsin Legislature to be valid must be accepted within 60 days from the date the bill was approved (March 17), and the Governor is to be judge of the security offered by the company. If it fails to accept or give proper security within the prescribed time, then the company which shall first accept shall be entitled to the grant. The St. Paul Press says: "The act provides for the construction of three, or rather four, railroads—counting the branch of the St. Croix & Lake Superior as one. The grant, it will be seen is loaded down with all it will carry; but as it is a ten section grant, it is probably fully adequate to the burden."

Canadian Pacific.—The Bulletin says: "There seems to be scarcely any doubt of the failure of the Canadian Pacific Railroad loan in England. Private advices from London taken in connection with the statements of the Canadian newspapers and the debates in the New Dominion Parliament indicate this result."

debates in the New Dominion Parliament indicate this result."

—The Toledo, Wabash & Western Railroad Company have issued $5,000,000 of 7 per cent gold mortgage bonds. These bonds have been issued especially to purchase and relay the entire line with steel rails. The steady increase of business over the road, together with its connection with the Canada Southern Railroad, which will be open for traffic in a few weeks, giving it a new and much needed eastern outlet, and the prospect of a large and rapid increase of business, make the aubstitution of steel for iron raila a necessity. The net earnings for 1871 and 1872 were largely in excess of the amount necessary to pay the interest on the entire mortgage debt of the company, including the present issue. The road has ne floating debt. Last year this road carried over 700,000 passengers and 3,000,000 tons of freight. road carried over 700,000 passengers and 3,000,000 tons of freight. Experience has proved that by the substitution of steel for iron rails on a road doing so heavy a traffic the "saving" alone, without any allowance for increase of business, is sufficient to much more than pay for the change. The bonds will only be issued as the rails are laid. $1,000,000 are now offered for sale by Messrs. Winslow, Lanier & Co, and Messrs. Perkins, Livingston & Post at the price of 90 and accreted interest: in current. The bonds the price of 90 and accrued interest in currency. The bonds being issued by an old road with an established traffic offer special inducements for the examination of investors.

-At the rate the gold bonds of the Vermont Division of the Portland & Ogdensburg Railroad are selling, they afford a much higher interest than Government bonds, and they are secured by a first mortgage at the rate of only $20,000 per mile. It is stated that the road is being built very economically; half of it is already in operation and the rest approaching completion. These bonds are a New England security, and the fact that the leading manufacturing house of Fairbauks & Co. are the selling agents, will undoubtedly influence many purchasers in their favor.

road, have decided, in order to accommodate the great increase of traffic, to relay the ENTIRE LINE WITH STEEL RAILS; and for that purpose have issued $5,000,000 of 7 per cent Mortgage Gold Bonds.

The steady increase of business over this line will be rapidly and greatly augmented by its connection with the Canada Southern Railroad (which will be open for traffic in a few weeks), repudging the substitution of steel rails a necessity.

rendering the substitution of steel rails a necessity

The net earnings for the year 1871 and 1872, after paying the interest on the Mortgage debt of the Company, were largely in excess of the amount necessary to pay the interest on this Mortgage.

The road has no floating debt. All the proceeds of these Bonds go to the permanent improvement of the property, experience having proved that by substituting ateel to iron ralls on roads doing so heavy a traffic, the "saving" alone, without any allowance for increase of business, is sufficient to pay off at least four times the amount of this Mortgage before maturity. The advantage of employing steel rails is so great that all our Trunk Lines are adopting them, to the exclusion of iron ones.

As the Bonds will only be issued as fast as the rails can be laid, we now offer for sale but $1,000,000, AT NINETY, AND ACCRUED INTEREST IN CURRENCY.

The large earnings of this road, with its future prospects, make this Bond, in our opinion, an undoubted security.

NEW YORK, May 15, 1873.

The CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD, now built and in operation as a through line of travel and traffic between the chief cities of the Ohio Valley and the East (420 miles), makes regular connections at Richmond with railroads leading to all points along the seaboard and with the Old Dominion line steamers for New York, and at Huntington on the Ohio River with fast packets for Cincinnati, Louisville, &c. In order to accommodate the large traffic in Western produce seeking ontlet to market over this road, the company are extending the main line eastward to a deep water terminus on the Chesapeake Bay, where the largest European steamers can load and unload alongside its tracks, and are adding to the equipment of the road, and otherwise enlarging the carrying and transfer facilities to meet the great traffic which its short line, low grades and other operating advantages are attracting to it.

We offer for sale $3,000,000 of their Seven per cent Gold Loan authorized for these purposes and amply secured by mortgage liens on the property. Bonds are of $1,000 each, principal and interest payable in gold coin in New York city, interest January 1 and July 1. Price 90 and accrued interest.

FRIDAY EVENING May 16 1879

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—The principal features of the past week bave been the continued ease in our call loan market; the temporary excitement arising from the despatches on Saturday last, of a panic on the Vienna Bourse, and the marked weakness in most of the leading speculative stocks sold at the Board. Money has been readily obtainable at 6@7 per cent, both by stock brokers and government bond dealers, the only exceptions being that on Monday there was a sharper demand with an advance to 7 gold, and nearly every day the rates have been lower in the afternoon, when balances have frequently been offered down to 5 and 4 per cent.

Commercial paper is in active request at easier rates, and while 8@9 per cent are the prevailing quotations for prime paper, there have been frequent sales of choice names at 7 per cent. The ready demand from purchasers of commercial and bankers paper seems to show a decided confidence in the financial soundness of the makers, and the possibility of now getting money 3@5 per cent lower than for six months past, must soon have an encouraging influence upon railroad and commercial borrowers.

On Saturday, 10th inst., the cable reported a serious panic in speculative securities on the Vienna Bourse, which led to some excitement and higher rates for money at Frankfort and the other financial markets of the Continent, and to a less degree in London. Later advices from day to day indicated a recovery in tone, and seemed to show that the break in speculative stocks was not likely to grow into anything more serious; but to-day a press dispatch reporting that 100 failures were announced in Vienna yesterday cansed a renewed depression.

The Bank of England advanced its discount rate to 5 per cent on Saturday last, but made no further advance at the regular meeting on Thursday, a circumstance which had a favorable effect in restoring confidence, as a further rise had been quite generally expected. The bank shows a decrease in bullion this week of £499,000. The Bank of France shows a decrease in in specie of 750,000 francs.

The last Clearing-House statement of New York city banks (May 10) showed an increase of $1,899,850 in the excess above legal reserve, making the whole of such excess $4,620,275. The total liabilities were $230,342,500, and the reserve $62,205,900.

The following statement shows the changes from previous week and a comparison with 1872 and 1871:

United States Bonds.—The active business in government bonds, arising from the large purchases of foreign huyers, was checked for a time by the unfavorable news of the Vienna panic, and the unsettled feeling caused thereby in other European markets. After one or two days of uncertainty, however, there was a renewal of purchases on their part, as it was seen that U. S. bonds gave way but little in the London market, and some bonds were also required to cover what had been hastily sold "short" on the first news of the panic. It is gratifying to remark with what steadiness our government bonds have resisted the occasional flurries and depressions of the foreign markets; as they are held largely throughout Germany and England, and any lack of confidence in them would immediately be shown by a precipitation of bonds on the market, and a consequent break in prices. Latterly the market has been quiet, and prices steady. Closing prices daily have been as follows.

State and Railroad Bonds.—There has been more business this week in Southern State bonds, and some of the issues are firmer. The bonds principally dealt in at the Board have been Tennessees, Virginias, South Carolinas, North Carolinas, and Alabama 8s. Georgia bonds are strong and higher on an improved demand, a part of which comes from purchasers within the State, and seems to show some confidence on the part. of home buyers in the soundness of their own securities. We have recently seen a legal opinion, written by a very prominent lawyer, for the holders of North Carolina special tax bonds, and holding that they have a good cause of action to compel the collection of taxes for the payment of their interest.

Railroad bonds have been more active both for the old bonds

Railroad bonds have been more active both for the old bonds sold at the Board and for the new bonds, of which there are several issues now offered, apparently attractive for investors in the rate of interest paid and in the security furnished by the several properties mortgaged. The long continued money stringency has naturally had the effect of lowering the price at which new loans are brought forward, and as the actual value of good railroad properties has not been diminished, the result is so far favorable for purchasers. Union Pacifics have been dealt in freely, and the land grants are rather higher than last week; the compacy's land sales in April amounted to 11,471 acres, at an average price of $4 92, amounting to $54,447; the total sales to May i have been 714,903 acres, for $3,064,877, an average of $4 28 per acre.

Hailroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The general tone of the stock market has been weak, and the list shows a decline of 1@4 per cent since last week, and on several stocks a still larger difference. This movement is hardly accounted for by the financial disturbances in Europe, and the sales of stocks by foreign bankers, which took place upon the first receipt of the unfavorable advices from abroad, and opinion is somewhat divided as to the actual causes for the decline. On the one side it is believed that the foreign advices, coming at a time when holders were already disappointed that no advance in prices has taken place since the relaxation in money, were sufficient to cause the downward turn; on the other hand it is said that the largest holders of stocks are favorable to lower prices, and are purposely depressing the market with the idea of "getting in," before an upward movement is started. We give these views for what they are worth, but would suggest one fact often observed in the preare worth, but would suggest one fact often observed in the previous history of the stock market, namely, that a serious depression frequently takes place just after the relaxation in a long continued monetary stringency, when holders are discouraged that no advance is immediately obtained, and after holding out during the siege, finally sell their stocks without reaping the advantage of their persistency.

To day, the market was dull, except in Pacific mail, Erie and a few other specialties, and closed weak, the newspaper dispatches that 100 additional failures were announced yesterday in Vienna having a depressing influence.

having a depressing influence.

The Gold Market.—The price of gold received an Impetus from the Vienna despatches on Saturday last, which carried it up to 118%. From this point there was a decline during the early part of this week as the foreign advices appeared more favorable. To-day more firmness was again shown, and the price reached 118, at which it closed. As to speculative movements in this market there have been no new developments, though some parties are predicting another active bull movement during the summer. On gold loans the rates paid for carrying to-day were 6, 4, and 5 per cent. At the Treasury sale of $1,000,000 on Thursday the bids amounted to $3,515,000. Custems receipts of the week have amounted to $2,236,000.

The following table will show the course of the gold premium each day of the past week:

Foreign Exchange.—Exchange was strengthened by the foreign advices previously referred to, the effect of which was shown in a reluctance on the part of drawers to make bills rather than in an immediate advance of prices. The market continued quiet until to-day, when a material advance was made by leading houses to 109½ for sixty days sterling bills, and 110½ for short sight. This advance was made on account of the present disinchination to draw, and also because the bankers seem to think that bigher rates are warranted, as they are unable to see where they higher rates are warranted, as they are unable to see where they can purchase commercial bills just now to cover their own sales. The revised rates for foreign exchange are as follows:

Alabama Finances and Rallroad Endorsements.-In regard to the new law respecting endorsed railroad bends, and the proposed issue of straight bends instead, the N. Y. Journal of Commerce has the following explanations:
"It will be remembered that under the acts of 1898, and subsequent amendatory acts of 1870, any line of railroad constructing within the State of Alabama was entitled to the endorsement of its first mertgage bonds by the State to the extent of $16,000 per

"Under this new endorsement law several railroads were commenced. For a time these State endotsed bonds were in great demand at from 95 to 104, until the unfortunate failure of the Alabama and Chattanorga Railroad to pay the interest upon its first mortgage State endersed bonds.

"Under the endorsement act the State was liable present and "Under the endorsement act the State was liable present and prospective (should the projected roads he completed) for about thirty-two millions of dollars. It is true that only about fifteen millions of actual liability exist, and many of the roads upon which this endorsement had been given were able to take care of their interest without calling upon the State; still, in financial circles, this fact was not considered. Many of the railroad companies represented that as the endorsement could not be made available for further construction, they were anxious to be relieved available for further construction, they were anxious to be relieved from the lien which accrued to the State by reason of the endorsement, and desired to place new first mortgage bonds upon their road. After a deliberate di cussion of this financial problem, which occupied at least two thirds of the late session of four months, the Legislature agreed by more than two-thirds vote in both branches upon a measure, which received the signature of the Governor, and became a law on the 23d of last month. This law simply proposes to any railroad company already entitled to the State's endorsement that if it desires to place a new worthing the state's endorsement that if it desires to place a new worthing. to the State's endorsement that if it desires to place a new mort-gage upon its line, and to be relieved of the State lien, that it must first return to the State the bonds already endorsed, and for every four (4) endorsed bonds returned and cancelled the State every four (4) endorsed bonds returned and cancelled the State will give one straight State bond, and hereafter as the read progresses, instead of receiving sixteen thousand per mile endorsement, the State will give four thousand per mile in her straight State bonds, thus reducing the present and prospective liability of the State con her railroad system 75 per cent. Again, these straight State bonds are in the nature of a loan instead of a gift, as the roads agreeing to and accepting this plan have to pay a small tax on their gross earnings, which goes towards paying the principal of these bonds at maturity—30 years hence. It will be remembered that under this new law the choice will remain with the railroads to receive the indorsement as formerly, or accept the provisions of this bill; but it is well known that every railroad company within the State prefers the provisions of this new act to the unavailable endorsement, and will endeavor to comply with its conditions. In addition to this favorable railroad legislation, the taxes have been increased from ½ to ½ of one per cent, which insures the prompt payment of all outstanding obligations which insures the prompt payment of all outstanding obligations against the State."

New York State Finances.—The emergency srising from the decision of the Court of Appeals that the Deficiency Tax act is unconstitutional has been met by an amendment to the Appropriation bill, which provides for a tax of  $2\frac{1}{4}$  mills for the general fund and  $1\frac{1}{4}$  mills for the canal fund, and that all taxes collected under the Deficiency act shall be credited on this tax.—Albany Evening Journal, May 10.

Northern Central Railway.-

The Northern Central Railway is a consolidation (November 9, 1854) of the Baltimore & Susquehanna and the York & Cumber land Railroads.

The business of the road in 1872 was more productive than that The business of the road in 1872 was more productive than that of any of the four preceding years, but the nett earnings were less than in any one of them. The expenses amounted to 74.73 per cent of the gross earnings. The operations of the leased roads are pronounced to have been satisfactory, and would have been so to a greater degree but for the want of enlarged facilities for handling the freights offered.

During the year 1872 the company became the purchasers of almost the entire stock of the Chemung and the Elmira, Jefferson & Canandaigua Railroad Companies, in payment for which they issued their income bonds, having 50 years to run and drawing.

issued their income bonds, having 50 years to run, and drawing interest at 7 per cent per annum for $2,750,000. These roads have an aggregate length of 69 miles, extending from Elmira to Canandaigua.

It is now proposed to lease all these roads to the Pennsylvania . Railroad Company, or merge the two companies. According to the resolution adopted at the annual meeting, if leased, the basis will be a rental on the capital stock and the payment of the interest on all of the company's obligations, and the payment of the same at maturity; but if merged, then an exchange of the Northern Central Railway stock for Pennsylvania Railroad stock upon an equitable basis. The last named company already own a majority of Northern Central stock.

Richmond & York River .- This road was sold at auction in Richmond, Va., May 2, and was purchased by Thomas Clyde and R. S. Burrows for $350,000. Both these gentlemen are large holders of the bonds of the road, and Mr. Clyde is a large holder of steamboats. It is said that the purchasers will organize a new company under the name of Richmond & Chesapeake. The road extends from Richmond to West Point on the York River, 38 The bonded debt is about $300,000, on which no interest has been paid for some time.

Syracuse & Chenango Valley.—The Syracuse Journal says meeting of the creditors of the Syracuse & Chenango Valley Railroad Company (in bankruptcy) will be held in the office of Register Gott, on the 20th inst., to prove their debts and choose one or more assignees. ### COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

FRIDAY NIGHT, May 16, 1873.

The complete resumption of inlaud navigation, by the reopening of the Eric Canal yesterday, has exerted a favorable influence upon trade, because there are many goods which are moved much more satisfactorily by water than by rail, from other considerations than on the score of cheapness; business is large, if not remunerative, and there appears a strong inclination to reduce stocks of such articles as are in large supply, and to hold all trade matters under easy control. In fact, the crisis in mercantile affairs seems to have nearly passed, and if our currency were on a specie basis, an early revival of activity, confidence and prosperity, might be anticipated.

Provisions have been generally quiet, and there has been some decline. But pork has shown some reaction after the recent marked decline, and the state of the Western markets has encouraged the turn in holders' favor; business, however, has been quiet; new mess has sold at $18 cash, and in extra prime a small business has been done at $14 50. Lard has been rather quiet at times, but latterly there has been more activity, and the market has ruled firmer; prime Western on the spot and for May has sold at 9\c. for June at 9\cdot @9 9-16c., and for July at 9\cdot c. Bacon has generally been very quiet, and a further decline has taken place; long clear has sold at 9½@9£c., and short clear at 9½c. for early delivery. There has been more activity in other meats, the demand being mainly for pickled and smoked hams, with business in the former at 10@11½c., the lower figure for very heavy; smoked hams in canvas have sold at 13½c.; dry salted shoulders, which have been very scarce on the end dry salted shoulders, which have been very scarce on the spot, have sold at 7½%72c. Beef has ruled quiet and easier. Butter has continued to deline until 28@30c. for new State has been reached. Cheese has been rather easier for new, exporters' bids now being only 15½c. for fine. or new, reached. Cheese has been rather easler for new, exporters' bids now being only 15½c. for fine. The decline in Liverpool has of course had some effect. The stock of old is about exhausted, but receipts of new are steadily increasing; and this, with the fact that the Liverpool market is well supplied, does not offer any encouragement to a reaction and higher prices. To-day pork was in some demand for new mess on the spot for export, and sales were made at $18, and there are a result beginning for Live delivery at $18. Live delivery. there was a small business for July delivery at $18. Lard was quiet; choice Western sold on the spot at 9.7-16c., with transactions in contract quality at 9½c, for June and 9½c, for July. Bacon was quiet. Cut meats generally quiet, with some business in pickled hams, however, at 12c.

quiet. Cut meats generally quiet, with some business in pickled hams, however, at 12c.

Freights have been more active, and rates show a material advance. The supply of grain by rail has been liberal, and besides disposing of current receipts, there has been a disposition to engage room ahead. Vessels for charter have been in demand to load grain and petroleum. Yesterday's business embraced grain to Liverpool by steam at 7½@8d. for next week, 8@8½d. for the week after, and 8½@9d. for the first week in June; grain to Cork for orders at 7s. 6d., and to Bristol channel, 7s.; petroleum at 7s. 6d. for crude, to a Swedish port; 6s. 3d. for refined, to Bristol, and 6s. 6d. for refined, to a direct port on the continent. To-day shipments of grain were liberal: to Liverpool, by steam, 8@8½d.; to London, wheat at 10d. by sail, and 10½d. by steam, with vessels to Penarth Roads, for orders, at 7s. 3d. Also, two barks, with refined petroleum, to Liverpool, at 6s. 3d.

Petroleum has materially declined, leading to more activity. Crude sold at 9½c. in bulk; and in refined recent sales have been about 50,000@60,000 bbls. at 19½@19½c. for May delivery, 20c. for July, and 20½c. for 7the last half of July; and in Philadelphia 19½@20c. for June. To-day there were large sales of crude in bulk at 9c. on the spot, and 14c. in shipping order for June delivery, and refined was lower at 19½c. in bbls. for May and the first half of June. Naphtha quoted at 11½c.

In wool there have been large sales of California and Celorado, the California bringing 16@23c. for Fall and 20@30c. for Spring clin and the Colorado 20@28c. Western Texas wool has also Tallow has been moderately active at 9 1-16c. for Prime. Calcutta linseed has sold at $2 60, gold, to arrive, which is lower. Hides have been doing better 25@25\frac{1}{2}c. gold for dry Buenos Ayres, and 20@23c. currency for dry Texas. Leather steady, with 10,000 sides taken for export. Fish oils have been more active for home use, including crude sperm at $1 50.

Tobacco has ruled steady for Kentucky leaf, and the demand has been very fair; the sales for the week have been 800 hhds., of which half for consumption and half for export. Prices show no decided change—new crop lugs, 7@8c., and leaf, 9@14c. Seed leaf has been rather more active, but the movement has not been large; there is a large crop, and a large stock in Europe not disposed of. The sales have been: Crop of 1870, 300 cases sundries, 9@10c.; crop of 1871, 500 cases do., mostly Connecticut, at 45@55c., but including other growths, mostly Connecticut, at 45@55c., but including other growths, $9@20c.; and crop of 1872, 220 cases Wisconsin on private terms. WEATHER REPORTS BY TELEGRAPH.—There has been a continuation of the rainy weather in the cotton States during the past week, the most of our telegrams reporting rain on three days, and some of them that they are having too much rain, though but little damage is indicated thus far. Our New Orleans telegram has failed to reach us. Our telegrams from Mobile and Montgomery report rain on three days the early part of the week, the latter part of the week being pleasant. At Selma it has rained on two days; both the Selma and Montgomery dispatch state that they are having too much rain. It has rained on three days at Macon and two days at Columbus, our correspondents at the latter point claiming that damage has been done. At Augusta it has rained on three days; accounts from the interior, as to the progress being made, are conflicting. At Charleston they have had two traioy days, with cold nights and warm days through the week. There have been three days of rain at Memphis, and the rest of the week was pleasant; on Tuesday there was a heavy storm; the stand of cotton is moderately good, though the accounts are conflicting as to its condition. At Nashville it has rained on one day; the weather is too cold for the satisfactory development of the plant. The thermometer at Memphis has averaged 65, Savannah 70, Mobile 74, Macon and Columbus 75, Montgomery 76. Montgomery 76.

"TRICKERY AND FRAUD."—We were very much surprised to find in the Liverpool circular of Messrs. Smith, Edwards & Co. under date of April 30th, the following extremely severe reflections upon the entire cotton trade of America:

"We hear on all sides bitter complaints of the wretched outturn of Cotton shipped from America this year. The losses arising from the fall of the market have been greatly aggravated by the inferiority of classification, and many cases have occurred where Cotton sold on firm offer has turned ont id. to 1%d. per lb. below the class guaranteed; indeed, we have heard of cases much worse than that. The parties on this side who have accepted the bills find it always difficult, and often impossible, to recover reclamations from the shippers, and altogether so much trickery and fraud have sprung up in the American Cotton trade that nerchants feet utterly disgusted with it."

This containing a ground large though none too, strong if

American Cotton trade that nerchants feet atterly disgusted with it."

This certainly is strong language, though none too strong if true, and yet we believe it is entirely unwarranted. That there is much poor cotton in this crop all admit; and that some aggravated cases of false packing have come to light is unfortunately a fact; but no one condemns these instances of fraud more unqualifiedly than our shippers. Nor do we understand this language to refer to such cases; it is intended to assert rather, as the next sentence in the circular clearly indicates, that Liverpool merchants who have bought contracts find now that the deliveries being made to them by Americans are "below the class guaranteed," and hence the "trickery and fraud." To see the utter improbability of this charge, two facts should be see the utter improbability of this charge, two facts should be remembered.

First.—These Liverpool merchants who feel so indignant are First.—These Liverpool merchauts who feel so indignant are loosing on these contracts, and the American merchants, if they make a correct delivery, are making out of them fully 1d. per pound. For instance, the class represented by the circular in question have been bulls, and large buyers at full prices. America, having sold to Liverpool a very considerable quantity for future shipment and delivery at from 10d. down to 9d., basis of middling, much of it with the clause "nothing below good ordinary." Here is a clear large profit on the speculation to the American merchant if he makes a correct delivery.

Second—But if the American merchant makes a wrong delivery or tender, the contract becomes cancelled, according to the Liverpool rules; be cannot make another tender, but loses all he would pool rules; be cannot make another tender, but loses all he would have gained, and the Liverpool merchant gets clear of his contract. How utterly improbable it is, therefore, that the entire body of American cotton merchants have banded together to cheat themselves by an improper tender out of all they have made in their speculation, and thus relieve their English cousing the state of the speculation and thus relieve their English cousing the state of the speculation and thus relieve their English cousing the state of the speculation and thus relieve their English cousing the state of the speculation and thus relieve their English cousing the speculation and thus relieve their English cousing the speculation and thus relieve their English cousing the speculation and the speculation are the speculation and the speculation are speculation.

made in their speculation, and thus relieve their English cousins of these extremely unfortunate contracts. This is the charge—such are the facts. Let those helieve it who cau.

Third—Is it not barely possible that there is something in the nature of a "cover" (slightly similar to the cry of "stop thief," which the light-fingered gentry are apt to indulge in) in this wail which comes across the water. We are knowing to the fact that cotton, supposed to be above the standard, has been rejected this Spring in Liverpool, when tendered, on the ground that it was below good ordinary, and the contracts have been cancelled. There are very many more of these same contracts coming due, and, perhaps, by such charges as this a prejudice may be created, which will help to get them also cancelled so as to discountenance all "trickery and fraud." According to our idea, as Liverpool has been worsted in the speculation, the proper course would be to pay up and take a fresh start.

BOMBAY SHIPMENTS.—According to our cable dispatch received

BOMBAY SHIPMENTS .- According to our cable dispatch received BOMBAY SHIPMENTS.—According to our cable dispatch received to-day, there have been 30,000 bales shipped from Bombay to Great Britain the past week and 8,000 bales to the continent, while the receipts at Bombay, during the same time have been 54,000 bales. The movement since the first of January is as follows. These are the figures of W. Nicol & Co., of Bombay, and are brought down to Thursday. May 15:

Shipments this week to— Great Con-Britain tinent. Total. 1873... 30,000 8,000 38,000 430,000 125,000 555,00 1972... 19,000 12,000 29,000 314,000 199,000 513,000 Week's Total. receipts. 555,000 54,000 612,000 28,000 513,000 50,000

From the foregoing it would appear that compared with last year there is an increase this year in the week's shipments from Bombay to all of Europe of 8,000 bales, and that the total movement aince Jan. 1 shows a decrease in shipments of 57,000 bales compared with the corresponding period of 1872.

GUNNY BAGS, BAGGING, &c.—The bagging market has been quiet and steady the past week, at 13@[3½c., cash, for immediate, and 14½@15c. for Summer months. We hear of no very large lots changing hands, trade for the past few days being confined to filling of small orders from the South. Sales for past week: New York and Boston about 1,500 to 2,000 rolls, at 13c cash. There are numerous inquiries in the market, and the position of bagging is such that a few sales would materially advance the market. India bales are dull and neglected. Bagg remain in the market. India bales are dull and neglected. Bags remain statu quo. No sales have transpired. We quotes 15c for heavies. Butts have ruled dull and weak. Sales the past week foot up about 800 to 1,000 bales, in lots of 100 and 200 bales, 2c cash and less discount, and 2 1-16c time.

BREADSTUFFS.

FRIDAY P. M., May 16, 1873.

date 1872, 342,150 118,980 89,880 7,700 7,850

The flour market shows a decided advance in prices of the low grades, and the medium and better grades have brought more money, though the improvement in these is not fully represented in the quotations. The lower grades have been wanted for the British Provinces at $5@5 40 for No. 2, and $6 25@$6 50 for superfine, and there has been an English demand at $7 15@$7 40 for common extras; the West India grades have also been moving freely at $7 75@$8 50, and the better grades of trade and family brands, including Southern and St. Louis, have been in request at $8 75@$10 50. The average advance for the week is about 25c. per bbl. The receipts have been moderate, and the amall stocks on hand have suffered a further reduction; but the cer tainty that our supplies of low grades will soon be greatly incrossed, since supplies of wheat have reached Black Rock and Oswego, prevents any speculative action. Rye flour is in good demand, but corn meal, though active early in the week, closes quiet. To-day the market was less buoyant, and the sales embraced 1,000 bbls. fair extra State to arrive in the first half of June at $7 35.

The wheat market has also shown some improvement in Spring growths, with a good degree of activity, and some large sales for June delivery, but closing less buoyant, and the higher figures of the week not obtainable. The business on the spot has embraced rejected and inferior Spring at $1 30@$1 47, No. 3 at $1 52@$1 58, No. 2 Chicago at $1 65@$1 67 (part for arrival by rail), No. 2 Northwest at $1 68, No. 2 Milwankee at $1 70@$1 72; also, No. 2 Milwaukee for the first half of June at $1 62@$1 63, for the last half and all June $1 62, and No. 2 Chicago for the first half of June at $1 57. The Eastward movement is large, but supplies on the Atlantic seaboard, as well as at the lower lake ports, have been greatly reduced. The stock in store in this market on Saturday last was only 122,223 bushels, against 757,882 bushels at the corresponding date last year. But the shipments Eastward in two weeks have been 2,505,000 bushels, against 647,000 bushels for the corresponding period last year. To-day the market was about steady, with free sales. Prices on the spot were $1.70 for No. 2 Milwaukee, $1.60 for No. 2 Northwest, and $1 65 for No. 2 Chicago, and for future delivery No. 2 Milwaukee at $1 66 for May, $1 65 for the first week in June and $1 62 for all June. White wheat more plenty Indian corn has experienced a marked declino. Receipts have been liberal by rail, and shippers have been embarrassed by the scarcity and higher rates of ocean freights. On Wednesday, good to prime new mixed "steam," and "sail," condition declined to 64@65c, with damp at 63½c, and some old mixed in store at 66c, and yesterday the business was mainly at 64@644c for new mixed. Shippers of grain, at the moment, seem to be giving their attention mainly to wheat. To-day, fair to good new mixed sold at 63@64c, with choice high mixed and yellow at 65c, and old mixed in store, at 67c.

Rye has advanced, with sales of several cargoes for the continent at 98c.@$1. Barley has been closing out at $1 121@$1 15 for prime Canada, 85c. for Western, and 70c, for common State, the season for malting being about over.

Oats also materially declined, especially for new mixed Western. The receipts by rail have been large, and the qualities and condition of a portion not good; choice white oats, however have been scarce and firm; the average quality of new mixed declined on Wednesday to 49c., but a hoat load brought 49ic. yesterday, with prime qualities at 51@51½c. for mixed, 55@56c for white. To-day the market was firmer at 51c, for good new mixed, 56@561c. for prime white, affoat, and 55@56 for old mixed in store.

GROCERIES.

FRIDAY EVENING, May 16, 1873.

The jobbing distribution of groceries has been better during the past week, and considerable business has been done in nearly all lines. The return of pleasant weather has revived the retail business in the interior, and country dealers are coming in more freely for supplies. There has been an active business in coffees, with prices improving somewhat, and steadily maintained at the close. Sugars, too, have advanced a fraction and are quoted tc above last week, although sales have been made at a shade below the extreme figures. Tea remains very dull and extremely weak, with no quotable alterations except on blacks, which are off. Molasses is quiet but steady, at unchanged figures.

TEA.

The tea market has been going from had to worse since our last report, and the last two auction sales have gone off at prices which will probably have the effect of discouraging holders who have adopted this means of disposing of heir goods. It is impossible to press large offerings upon the market when it is in such a condition as at present without breaking prices. Had holders been willing to place their goods through brokers a decline might have been delayed at least, if not prevented altogether. The sale which occurred on Thursday was the worst of the series, and excepting only the best grades of Greens was a bad slaughter. Oolongs actually sold at 3@5c below the prices that could have been obtained for them at private sale a few days previous. We annex a list of prices realized npon different lots: 79 half chests Hyson Twankay, 17@19c.; 119 do Hyson, 25%@66c; 1,366 do Young Hyson, 22c@$1 13%; 323 Imperial, 15%@77c.; 410 double half chest, boxes, half ehest Gunpowder, 27cm$1 29; 1,205 half chests Amoy Oolongs, 23%cm$1 55; 290 half chests Colongs, 30%32c; 738 half chests and boxes Souchorgs, 19%@35c; 737 half chests Japans, 54@77c. There have been few arrivals of tea during the past week, but the stock is still very full. The sales have included 1,000 half chests Greens and 1,200 do. Japans at private sale.

Imports at this port the past week have included 90,847 lbs Black per "Everhard" from Hong Kong, and 36,990 do. do., per "Gemsbok," from same port. The indirect importations have included 3,319 pkgs. by steamer.

The following table shows the imports of Tea into the United States from January 1 to date, in 1873 and 1872:

Black. Green. Japan. Total. Atlantic ports, 1873...lbs. 11,232 992 7,851,402 30,233,933 Atlantic ports, 1872...... 19,330,270 12,232,175 4,823,794 27,421,239

The indirect receipts at New York, principally overland receipts from San Francisco, have been 47,396 pkgs. since January1. against 64,403 inst year. Imports at San Francisco from Jan. 1 to April 30, were 188,825 lbs. of China, 1,015,630 lbs. of Japan and 200 lbs. of Java tea.

COFFEE.

There has been an active jobbing demand, and considerable bosiness has also been done from first hands, the aggregate sales of Rio being heavier than during any week for a long time past. The market has been strong at an advance of &c. on invoice lots, and is sustained by very favorable Rio news. Upon the ladis grades there has been a pretty general advance, and the stocks are well run down. Indeed there is but little of the amount reported below as comprising the stock of India coffees which has not passed into second hands. The position of the market has not been so favorable for holders in a long time as it is at present. Stocks are light and the demand is good, with a pospect of continuing so for some time, as the dealers in the interior hold very small amounts of goods. The sales of all descriptions for the week amount to 7,100 bags Lagunyra at 19@19%c., 1,639 do. Costa Rica, 446 do. Maracaibo, 760 do. Savanilla, 338 do. Jamaica, 569 do. Porto Rico, 350 do. Imports the past week have included 5,689 bags Rio, per "J. L. Pendergast," 3,300 do. do. per "Lamoine," 5,442 do. do. per "St. Ursula," 4,237 do do. per "Wavelet," 4,100 do. do. per "Nautilus;" 550 do. St. Domingo per "Oliver," and "Vicksburg," and 218 do. suadries.

The market has been strong throughout the present week, and the tendency has been steadily toward higher rates. An advance of %c has been established in the quotations upon raw sugars, but this is not fully warranted by the prices obtained upon lots sold, which in some instances have been a small fraction under our quoted extremes, although still showing an advance over our last prices. The market closes very steady at this advance, and stocks are well controlled. The arrivals are fairly free, although not unusually heavy for this acason of the year and the accumulation of stock is slow. The better grades of refining sugars are most lin request, and are relatively stronger than the poorer qualities. For refined goods the demand has been fair, and the tone of the market has been steady throughout. Prices have undergone no important alterations since our last, and may be regarded as steady at full former rates. The supply of crushed remains small, and this grade is held above the others. The sales of raws since our last have included 3,465 hhds. and 994 boxes Cuba sugar, 73(6,84c.; 149 hhds and 4,049 hoxes Centrifugal, 969%c.; 1,400 hhds. Porto Rico refining, 7%68c.; 200 boxes molasses sugar, 7%c.; 300 boxes Derosne, 8%c.

MOLASSES.

There has been an improved demand for molasses, both of refining and grocery qualities. The supply of the latter has been increased by considerable arrivals during the week, and with more liberal offerings to select from refiners are buying freely. Prices have shown no material changes on the lower grades, but the high test qualities are 1@2c, per gallon higher in consequence of the improved domand. The stock of Cuba molasses is now put down at about 3,000 hhds., including grocery stock. Porto Rico has been arriving more freely, and with a stock of 998 hhds. sales are becoming more liberal. There are 317 hhds. of English Islands here, and the sales of these grades are on a fairly liberal scale. The stock of New Orleans molasses has been reduced to 2,100 bbls., and holders are very firm, with sales making at advanced prices. Fair to good is held at 73@75, Prime at 76@78, and Choice at 78@80c, for trade lots. The sales are 158 hhds. St. Croix on private terms, 75 hhds. Porto Rico and 375 bbls. New Orleans in trade lots, within the quoted range.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

FRIDAY, P. M., May 16, 1873.

The market begins to show the general aspects of dulness peculiar to the closing of a season, and trade is restricted to small lots ordered from the interior to replecish stocks. The weather has been unfavorable for an active distribution of light effects adapted especially to Summer wear, and the sale of these goods has been restricted in consequence. The principal buyers during the week have been from near-by localities, and their purchases have not been very liberal. The result is that jobbers' stocks continue to hold out, and they have little need to draw fresh assortments from first hands. Collections are reported more liberal, and now that the pressure of the money market here has been removed to some extent the feeling among the trade is altogether more favorable. There are no reports of failures among the trade here, and no serious suspensious have occurred elsewhere, so far as we are able to learn.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS .- The general list of cotton fabrica is firmly sustained in first hands, although meeting with slow sale. Jobbers have not had a very active run, and with a view to facilitating sales are cutting prices on all sorts of goods. The medium and low grades of brown sheetings and shirtings have probably suffered the most, although there has also been considerable "eutting" on bleached goods, which jobbers show a dis. position to press upon the market, or make "leaders" of to assist the sale of other goods. Colored cottons continue to rule fairly steady, and stocks are well under control. Rolled jaconets have been somewhat irregular, as several of the leading jobbing concerns are offering them at a reduction from agents' prices. Prints are slow of sale, and the distribution is restricted to selections from the stand, with very few goods moving in full packages. Some "drives" have been offered by jobbers, but they are unimportant, coming just at this season

DOMESTIC WOOLEN GOODS.—Aside from a small demand for sorting up lots from the tailoring trade, there is nothing doing in Spring weight cloths and cassimeres, and the movement in this direction is not very heavy. There is a good demand for heavy weolens for the use of clothiers, and although there is less than the usual disposition manifested to make speculative purchases buyers are taking out some goods, at fair prices. The unsettled condition of the wool market is prejudicial to a good business or steady tone in woolen goods, and until affairs became more settled in the raw material, fabrics cannot be expected to move very freely, or show much stability. Worsted dress goods are in moderate request and remain at about former figures.

Foreign Goods.—Staples are jobbing moderately, but trade with importers remains very slack. Fine makes of black silk and wool grenadines of 24-inch widths are in brisk request, but are scarce in first hands, and only lightly held by the jobbers: but there is little inquiry for double width goods, which are selling low. Black eashmeres d'Ecosse, mohair lustres, and the best makes of chambrays and cretonnes are in fair jobbing demand, and are steady in price. Dress goods are moving slowly, and many of the fancy styles have been greatly reduced in price, although plain goods of really desirable class are moderately firm in price. Ribbons and millinery silks continue to drag heavily, and are most soid through the auction rooms, at considerable less than importation cost. There is some improvement in housekeeping linens, but white goods are still slow.

We amex a few particulars of leading articles of dome manufacture our prices quoted being those of leading jobbers

THE MONETARY IMPROVEMENT.

The explanation of the languor of the money market which ascribed it to a temporary lull, has been verified. The quietude has passed off. There is an active demand for time loans; and this is one of the most notable changes in the situation just now. Another is the hesitancy on the part of certain capitalists as to what use it will be most judicious to choose for their meney. During the past winter it has been notorious that a few millions of dollars adroitly wielded by a little knot of skilful operators have caused a good deal of the trouble that we have had, and have earned large profits. But this lucrative work is over tor the season; and the speculators, it is conjectured, will be likely to turn their attention to the stock market. They have at least to attract them to such a movement the favorable conditions of easy money, low prices, a depressed feeling, and a "short" interest that is supposed to be onsiderable.

It is not these capitalists, however, to whom we chiefly refer as hesitating what they shall do with their money. There is a large amount of capital owned by a totally different class of people, which has accumulated in Wall street in consequence of the heavy rates of interest so long prevalent here. Now that the high scale of charges is at an end, and the strength of the banks has gone on improving, the doubt is engendered whether capital can be made to earn full rates all through the interval prior to the opening of the fall trade.

An analogous tendency to expect a snug, close money market on the part of some of the borrowers has led them to engage time-loans, for which, in some instances, 7 per cent has been paid, with a small premium beside. So long as this anxiety to borrow on time remains unsatisfied, the rates will of course keep up.

There is, however, an influential class of borrowers who take the opposite view. They think that as general business is so dull, and is expected to continue below the average, the mercentile demand for money may, perhaps, fall off; in which case the loan market will work down to lower rates. The fear of fall stringency also is not shared by these parties to the same extent as it prevails generally. They bring three arguments against this prevalent expectation of stringency. First, it has been so widely anticipated, and will be so amply provided against by time-loans, that the pressure will be taken off when the active monetary demaid sets in. Secondly, many corporations and other heavy borrowers will be out of the market, and we hope also to be free from the large extra demand for money which disturbed our loan market during the past two autumnal seasons, in consequence of the destruction by the Chicago and Boston fires, which greatly drained our money market and produced a depletion, the results of which have not even yet wholly passed off. Thirdly, they rely on the payment of the Alabama indemnity of $15,500,000 by England in gold during the fall. This large payment, however made, will perhaps not be of much service in the way suggested, except it should check the necessity for an export of gold, which is one of the possible contingeneies urged by those who look for a tight money market.

Another reason urged against the probability of stringency is more improbable, namely, the expectation that the Treasury will issue more greenbacks out of its illegal reserve, should there be any serious danger of monetary trouble. This habit of tooking for an increase of the currency as a panacea for financial or political evils must not be allowed to grow up among us. It might soon become a very dangerous symptom. The rise of the premium on gold in consequence of the last issues of greenbacks, and the excitement and depreciation thus produced, have made the attempting of anything further in the same direction as unpopular in policy as it would be dangerous in practice.

Moreover there are not a few persons who expect that the monetary situation will be improved by the increasing demand for our Government bonds in Europe. A leading firm during the last month have shipped to London no less than seven millions, and the aggregate exportation of Government bonds through all channels is computed at 50 millions since the beginning of January. We incline to think this estimate rather beyond the truth. Still there is evidence that a large and increasing export to England and Scotland is now going on, which is due in no small degree to the recent funding operations of the Syndicate. The advertisements and other information which have appeared in the English papers have made our bonds familiar to a great number of persons who heretofore knew but little of their superiority The consequence has been that the as investments. European demand is growing, and it has received a notable impulse since the final settlement of the Alabama dispute. and the consequent removal of all remaining causes of irritation and misunderstanding between the two countries. The recent advance in gold has also, without doubt, some part in stimulating this export of our securities. If gold should decline it would perhaps be checked; but if, as seems probable, gold should keep firm or even advance a point or two, the foreign demand for our government bonds seems likely to keep up.

THE CLEARING HOUSE AND BANK DEFALCATIONS.

"Under any methods of banking, perfect them as we will, defalcations and embezzlements will occur, but each notable instance of wrongdoing should be made to suggest some new safeguards." This maxim of an influential bank authority seems likely to be fulfilled by the Atlantic Bank failure, which is in some respects the most rich in practical suggestions which has ever occurred in this city. may contribute, under the enlightened investigations of the Clearing House to throw a flood of light on several important defects of our banking system, to some of which The Chronicle lately referred. It is often said that the national currency law, offers the most effective safeguards that could be contrived to guarantee the stability of our banking organism; and yet we find that Taintor, a young cashier, has contrived to overleap all these bounds and rob the bank of a quarter of a million or more without anybody but himself having the least idea what he was about. The Comptroller and the Bank Examiner have both been blamed for supposed negligence in regard to this bank. But as we explained a short time since, there does not appear to be any evidence to support this charge, and both officers have the reputation of being faithful, industrious and experienced, so that the charge cannot be entertained except on competent proof. Their exculpation will perhaps be fully borne out as the facts of this disgraceful failure are more completely disclosed.

The receiver has discovered that Taintor was short more than $40,000, which he had embezzled prior to the last official inspection which the examiner made of the bank in October, 1872. This early date of the defalcation was suspected, but is now certain; and the reason is also disclosed why the examiner could not have discovered it. Taintor bad stolen the securities on special deposit in the bank vaults and belonging to private individuals. Of these securities no record was kept in the books of the bank, and if there had been such a record it did not lie within the examiner's powers to take cognizance of these valuables. Even Taintor himself declares that up to the very time of the explosion no examination or investigation however searching could reveal anything wrong in the securities of the bank itself. It is simple justice to the Comptroller and his examiner that this fact should be known; but still we must regret that the tank was not visited between October, 1872, and the time of its final suspension. Institutions in whose affairs there is any dubious taint, as was the case with the Atlantic Bank, should certainly receive an admonitory visit every three months or oftener.

But there is still more to be done. Any bank is undoubtedly responsible for the custody of the securities left in its vaults for safekeeping. Even if, as is alleged, it should turn out that the owner will find it difficult if not impossible to establish his legal claim on the bank in such a case as this, still there is a moral responsibility; and the directors and officers of our city banks will do well to give attention to this weak spot of our banking methods and to contrive some adequate remedy. Their duties and the obligations of the depositors of such securities are well set forth by a bank officer of much experience in this city. He says:

A person putting his bonds or securities in the vaults of a bank "for safe keeping," used to be reasonably sure of exemption from worry on account of the bank's debts, and might sleep nights without dreaming his source of income is all run away with. But since the investigation into the administration of the affairs of the Atlantic National Bank, it seems that "special deposits" of securities are not particularly safe, and are frequently a source of great grief to stockholders and business depositors, for the handling of such securities, of which no official record is kept, is a direct temptation to dishonesty and fraud.

The dishonest bank officer makes out a lot of temporary loans to John Smith, Richard Roe and John Doe, and other imaginary men, and secures them by placing the securities left with him "for safe keeping" as collateral. When the bank examiner goes through the bank he finds these collateral loans representing so much money, and so far as the bank is concerned, everything is perfectly straight. But he has no authority to look into the boxes and envelopes in the vaults supposed to contain securities belonging to the widow and the orphans, and to the trustees and retired men who live on their incomes; nor would he have any means of knowing what should be there, if the law gave him the power.

Then, again, in a case where the securities are lost, mislaid, or misappropriated, or stolen or burned up, after having been put into the bank vaults for safe keeping only, it is not at all clear that the bank is responsible. This question is constantly being mooted in the courts, and still is very unsettled. We cannot in good faith do otherwise than to deprecate the practice among capitalists of depositing their bonds in the hands of bank officers "for safe keeping only." It is not safe for the owner, and it is not just to the weak bank officer to put temptation into his hand with so safe and inviting a means of hiding.

Two points seem to be suggested by these facts. First, that banks ought to take as few of these special deposits as possible. They cannot perhaps be refused in many cases, and the practice of taking such deposits is as old as banking itself. But now that there are Safe Deposit Companies which for a small compensation do this very business of receiving the custody of securities, there is the more potent resson why bankers and the public should regard with less favor the keeping of special deposits in banks; and the custom would die away much more rapidly if it were better known how doubtful redress would be if the securities should be lost or atolen.

Secondly, it cannot be too earnestly impressed on investors to put their money as far as possible into registered securities. These cannot be used by a thief, as they are payable on written orders. They are as secure as the coupon bonds are unsafe. If a registered bond is lost it is of little value to the finder. Nobody but the real owner can sell it or collect the interest, and consequently it is sure to come back to him. If coupon bonds must be had for some specific purpose they should be placed where they will be in safe keeping, by which we mean either in a safe deposit company or in hands not used to buy and sell or to deal in such securities in Wall street or elsewhere.

There are some other cautions suggested by the Atlantic Bank failure touching the cangers of our National banks, and their exposure to be robbed and swindled by a clever defaulter who has crept into some place of minor or greater trust in the bank. What these dangers are we need not now discuss at length. They are well known to bank officers, and the Clearing House will, we trust, give its attention to them, and see if some better sateguards cannot be contrived against them. A well considered report from this body on the subject might contribute to reassure the public mind, and would in other respects be of service at the present moment.

THE INELASTICITY OF THE GERMAN BANKING SYSTEM.

In enumerating last week the probable causes of the Vienna panic we mentioned the inelasticity of the monetary machinery of Austria and the imperfect development of the bank machinery in Germany, and we ascribed to the last named circumstance a large part of the trouble which has spread so widely, and has disturbed the financial equilibrium of the chief German cities during the past two years. To illustrate some aspects of this movement, we give below the statistics of the German note-issuing banks:

The most notable feature of these reports is the small sum of the deposits, which are but 35 millions of thalers against 200 millions of coin and 320 millions of notes. It will be interesting to watch the growth of these bank deposits in successive years under the stimulus of the capital which is pouring into Germany from France. Never before has so important a transfer of capital been so conspicuously exhibited in the financial arena of Europe. It is destined to give to political economists abundant scope for interesting analysis. For example, France is depleting herself of 1,000 millions of dollars of indemnity money. We might ask these gentlemen whether France be really 1,000 millions poorer than she really was; and if so, to explain why she does not show more apparent suffering. Germany, moreover, is receiving these millions, is she so much the richer? If so, why is her industry apparently so much less prosperous than that of the French? Again we might ask how these prodigious sums of money have been paid? Has France transmitted them in gold? No. That is ascertained beyond question. For during the last three years her coin exports have been less than her imports. She has been importing gold instead of exporting it during the whole period in which she has been paying these bewildering sums, whose magnitude transcends any transaction between two governments ever made before.

Yet still the payments have been made just as effectively as if the whole had been transferred in coin. The process of payment, however complicated, has of course two chief elements; first, exported goods, and secondly, exported securities. When the whole transaction shall have been completed, one result will be that securities to the amount of nearly 1,000 millions of capital which were formerly held and owned in France, will be transferred and held in Germany, or for German account. It is the stupendous task of absorbing these vast amounts of imported capital which is putting the banking system of Germany to so severe a strain. And not only so, but new corporations have been formed during the last two years, having an aggregate capital of 5,000 millions of guilders, which is equivalent to 1,200 millions of dollars. It seems impossible that so rapid a growth of moneyed institutions should not give two results. First, a gradual advance in the deposits of the banks, and secondly, a notable increase in the relative strength of the bank which forms the centre of the financial system.

This central institution, as is well known, is the Bank of Prussia, which has a capital of 22 millions of thalers, with 277 millions of coin, 242 millions of note circulation, and only 29 millions of deposits. The circulating notes are not restricted in amount, except that by the existing laws the issues are to be secured by one-third gold or silver coin one-third bonds, and one-third bankable paper safely indorsed. By order of 11th April and 5th October, 1846, the present currency powers were conferred on this bank, when it was made a joint stock corporation, the capital contributed by the stockholders having been 10 millions, since enlarged to 20 millions, and likely to receive still further increase. The State also holds stock in the bank to the amount of 1,906,800 thalers. The private shares were held in 1872 by 1,451 holders of 11,749 shares in Prussia, and by 865 holders of 8,251 shares in foreign countries. The gradual growth of the Bank since its reorganization in 1846 is shown in the subjoined table:

In 1872 the bank had 163 branches established in all parts of Prussia, including Alsace and Lorraine. Its aggregate power was comprised in the following items in the last three years:

To the figures for 1871 and 1872 we have added those for the last two weeks before the outbreak of the late panic. It appears that the circulation of the Prussian bank decreased during that period 42 millions of thalers, while the acceptances and endorsements increased 40 millions. The explanation of this is doubtless to be found in the payment of 250,000,000 francs just made by France, a part of which would appear to have been made in Prussian bank notes, while the greater part would doubtless be paid in bills. An important feature in Prussian banking has always been the payment of interest on deposits. By the law of December 25, 1777, the rate of interest was paid at  $2\frac{1}{2}$  per cent for deposits, except on moneys deposited by the orphans' court. Deposits on behalf of minors were paid 3 per cent;

those of churches, charitable institutions, and courts,  $2\frac{1}{2}$  per cent, and all others 2 per cent. The various amounts held in successive years at these rates are given below, and show how small a part of the deposits of the bank represent commercial transactions.

The aggregate deposits, it will be seen, have not increased of late, though the other business of the bank has received so wonderful a growth during the war and since. This will be best illustrated by the subjoined table, which gives the total transactions for a series of years since the first establishment of the bank as a Government institution by Frederick the Great, June 17, 1765:

The conspicuous increase in 1871 to 6,000 millions, against 4,000 millions in 1869, wi'll perhaps be shown to be equalled if not exceeded by the business of 1872 when we get the reports. The profits for the year 1871 were 16 per cent, or 3,423,585 thalers, from which was paid a dividend of 4½ per cent on the private shares, and  $3\frac{1}{2}$  on those of the Government. There is an accumulation of undivided profts amounting to 3,120,045 thalers, which constitutes an extra dividend in equal amounts to the State and to the private stockholders. Such are the main facts relative to the general history of this bank. How its business is distributed may be seen from the subjoined table of its investments, conspicuous among which is the coin reserve, which amounts to \$160,000,000—a larger sum than that of the Bank of England, which holds but \$108,000,000.

What specific changes will follow in the management of the Prussian bank to enable it to expand to the new demands of the Imperial finance is uncertain. The Reichstag is too busy at present discussing the new coinage, but some fresh arrangement is inevitable in the circulating notes which it is in contemplation to retire in order to assimilate them to the new mark currency. That the note issuing privileges of the bank will be curtailed, or burdened with a tax is not probable, although the bank gains more than a million of thalers a year by the additional currency which it is able to keep affoat now above that outstanding before the war. The expectation is that the strength of the bank will be required to be increased by a stock subscription of over twenty million thalers, making the whole capital 40 to 50 millions, a sum on which, as we have seen, the present business of the institution would pay adequate profits.

CURRENT TOPICS.

THE INTERNATIONAL RAILROAD AND THE TEXAS LEGISLATURE.

One of the most forcible commentaries upon the average intellect composing a Southern Legislature under the present regime, may be seen in the action of the House of Representatives of Texas, on the 13th of this month, with regard to the State honds agreed to be issued to the International Railroad. It seems that the International Company was incorporated by the Texas Legislature, August 5, 1870, authorizing the construction of a road across the State from the Red River opposite Fulton to Laredo on the Rio Grande. In passing the charter the State knowing that without unusual inducements the necessary capital could not be attracted thither for years, and considering the execution of the plan of great importance offered and agreed to give any company of capitalists who would build the road $10,000 in eight per cent bonds for every mile of road constructed. Relying upon this guaranty, capital was subscribed and the road begun, and now one hundred and eighty miles have been built, but not a bond is forthcoming. The company, therefore, have applied to the courts of the State to enforce the delivery. But just here this modern legislative body steps in-and what does it do? It does not repudiate the contract, saying we are sick of our bargain, and will not fulfill it, but it takes the novel action of declaring by a solemn vote of 56 to 17, that the law of the previous Legislature was unconstitutional; in other words, it constitutes itself a court to pass upon the legislation of a previous body similar to its own, and while that law is before the court awaiting its decision. Such a form of government certainly has the advantage of being very simple, even we might say primitive-a single hody having the power to enact, enforce, and interpret laws. It might be slightly inconvenient if it is to be followed another year by another Legislature equally powerful, putting the acts of the present law makers in jeopardy. There is no reason to suppose that this novel proceeding finds sympathy among the more intelligent people of the State; we notice that the Galveston News and other leading newspapers express themselves very decidedly against it. We refer to it, therefore, more as a freak of the times through which the South is now passing, than as an indication of what we believe will be the mature final action of the people of the State.

THE CHAMPLAIN CANAL SHEME.—The plan of improving the Champlain Canal, now before the Senate with the approval of the Assembly, provides for a very much more extensive undertaking than is generally supposed. It involves not only the improvement of the existing canal by which the limited traffic of Lake Champlain finds an outlet to the river, but the construction of a new canal from Ticonderoga to the Hudson which, considering the nature of the country traversed, could only be done at immense cost. Even if built, there would be difficulties encountered that would render its utility doubtful. Owing to the fact that Lake Champlain lies at a lower level, water must be drawn from the Hudson, and already the river above Troy is so reduced that it could not be tapped for the purpose proposed without serious detriment to navigation below that point. The gradual clearing away of the forests in which the Hudson takes its rise is drying the soil and diminishing the rainfall, and the volume of water above the point where the effect of the tide ceases to be felt, is said to be perceptibly lessening from year to year. If this be true, we certainly cannot spare the water needed to fill the beds of a canal emptying into Lake Champlain. But a more seriousor, at least, a more immediate-objection to the scheme, is found in the fact that it is not needed and would only have the effect of diverting commerce from our costly and debt-burdened Erie Canal without advantage to the commercial interests of New York. With such a canal, we should be in no better position than now to compete with Montreal for the export of grain coming down the St. Lawrence; and if we were, our little gain in this respect would be more than offset by the increased burdens which the construction and maintenance of the proposed canal would impose upon the State Treasury. Indeed, we fail to discover that any reason can be urged in favor of its construction as a public enterprise which merits consideration. The Eric Canal is not yet utilized to anything like its capacity, nor will it. be for many years to come, at the present rate of annual increase in traffic. This statement is fully substantiated by the annual reports of the Auditor of the Canal Board for several years past, and we fail to see why the Legislature should consider with any favor at all a bill to open two water routes for the accommodation of a traffic not great enough to tax the capacity of one.

EUROPEAN STEAMSHIP LINE FROM PHILADELPHIA.—The newspapers of our neighboring city have of late and with reason been congratulating themselves upon the successful trial trip of the "Penrsylvania," the first of the proposed line of steamers from that city to Liverpool. This vessel sailed this week Thursday, and it is hoped that its success will be all that is anticipated so that we may have established a purely American line of steamships trading, as the Philadelphia Press expresses it, "between the manufacturing capital of the United States and the commer cial capital of Great Britain." In the same connection the completion and opening of the Delaware & Pennsylvania Railroad is of special importance. The road is forty miles long, and extends from Pomeroy, on the Pennsylvania Central, to Delaware City, at the head of the bay, and about forty miles below Philadelphia. Navigation on the Delaware is partially or wholly suspended by ice every winter, but by the completion of this new link the difficulty is wholly overcome. It is the purpose of the Pennsylvania Central Company to ship to this point all the grain that now comes from the West and is exported from Philadelphia; also all of the coal and much of the lumber. The cost of transportation will be the same as to the latter city, the distance being the same. With this new terminus accessible at all times of the year from the Atlantic, one very serious difficulty which has been urged as standing in the way of the success of this line of steamers is removed; and we trust that every other prophecy of Ill omen (and what new enterprise does not take its initiation In the midst of many?) will prove equally shadowy.

THE BROOKLYN BRIDGE.—The anxiety manifested by the indi vidual stock-holders of the New York & Brooklyn Bridge Company to withdraw from that enterprise and leave it in its present unfinished state upon the hands of the municipalities of the two cities jointly interested in its completion, is another proof of the difficulty of harmonizing public and private interests when governments enter into partnership with individuals. Some time ago, it will be remembered, the private stockholders made an effort to reorganize the company on such a basis that the trustees of the stock owned by the cities of New York and Brooklyn should have practically no voice in the management. Failing in this they became dissatisfied, for obvious reasons, and are now trying to induce the two cities to return them the money invested. To this end they are endeavoring to obtain legislative sanction for the proposed transfer of the private stock to the two cities at par, and as this will not be obtainable from the present Legislature, the question of whether they should be allowed thus to withdraw from the company or not lacks something of immediate interest. We fail to discover that they have any good reason for their dissatisfaction, but as the cities of New York and Brooklyn already own about nine-tenths of the stock, and will have to subscribe what may yet be needed to complete the work, it is very likely best that, if it is to be completed at all, they should have the entire ownership, and in such event the bridge would be made free. Before it is finished, however, is it not probable that we shall find we have on our hands almost as troublesome a blessing as the State of Massachusetts has in its Hoosac Tunnel?

INTERNATIONAL TONNAGE.—The French Government have decided upon adopting the English rules for the measurement of ships. The new system is to come into force on the 1st of June. It has not been necessary to obtain the sanction of the Legislative Assembly, since a law which was passed in 1836 intrusts the Government with the power of altering the tonnage rules. The dimensions are, as in the case of the German and Austrian adaptations of the English rules, to be taken in metres, and the contents in cubic metres is to be divided by 2.83 for the tennage. The allowance for propelling power is, for the sake of uniformity, to be estimated by the percentage rule at present in force in England. Remeasurement under the new rule is to be made compulsory; all old ships are to be measured on their first visit to discharge cargo in any French port. In this respect the practice is different from the English, as a large number of English ships built before 1854 (when the present rule was adopted) are still assessed upon the tonuage as measured by the imperfect rules in force at that period. It is understood that the question of international tonnage is under consideration by some other European Governments, and that the English rule is likely to be very soon adopted by Holland.

[From our own correspondent.]

London, Saturday, May 10, 1873.

The more prominent feature in the week just concluded is the advance in the official minimum to 41 per cent. A rise to that point, or even to 5 per cent, was anticipated in many quarters owing to the fact that the price of money on the Continent has of late been increased, the minimum quotation in the German markets being six per cent. Some are of opinion that an advance of one per cent, or to five per cent, would have been more prudent; but the only reason for effecting it would have been the dearness of the German and Dutch markets compared with our own. As regards the London market, there is no actual pressure or vigor in the demand, and the supply of money is good, while it may be said of the German markets that the causes affecting them at the present time are likely to prove but temporary, so that a sudden return of ease may not improbably take place. The directors of the Bank of England have, no doubt, contended that in advancing the minimum rate to 5 per cent, they might have been so much with an arrangement made with the Comptroller of the Currency: above the open markets that the result would have been a large loss of business. The "other securities" of the Bank have run off this week to the extent of £536,088, and there is a decrease in the supply of bullion of £498,635; but the latter is due more to internal than external causes, the absorption of coin by the Prov. inces and by Scotland baving been much greater than the export demand. Germany, however, is still a large buyer of gold, and her agents purchase nearly the whole of the supplies as they arrive. It is for that reason, and also that money is so much dearer than in Germany, that many contend that a five per cent rate is immediately desirable. On the other side of the question. however, there is this to be said, that if Germany requires the gold for coinage purposes, and possesses the means of buying it, a five per cent rate would be as ineffective as 41 per cent. The proportion of reserve to liabilities at the Bank, which was last week 334 per cent, is now somewhat under 33 per cent—a point below which it is desirable it should not decline.

The supply of money seeking employment is good, and loans for short periods are obtainable on comparatively easy terms, viz., 3 to 3½ per cent. The demand for money shows a healthy degree of activity, and discount accommodation is not obtainable under the official minimum. Annexed are the quotations:

The importations of gold have been small, the arrivals of bullion having consisted chiefly of silver and dollars from the United States. A sum of £343,000 is due on the 20th inst. from Alexandria, and it is expected that the whole of the supply of bar gold will be sent abroad. The sovereigns, however, which are being returned from Egypt, will no doubt be sent, as usual, into the Bank. One of the features in the bullion market during the week is the return of £170,000 in sovereigns from South America. The market for silver and dollars presents very little change. The following prices of bullion are from the circular of Messrs. Pixley, Abell, Langley & Blake:

A statement has been published showing the average receipts per day of the Atlantic Telegraph Company. In 1866, they average £747 per day; io 1867, £897; in 1868, £936; in 1869, £906; tariffs, the business of the companies has largely increased. Last year the companies must have forwarded 9,425 words per day.

The stock markets have continued to be wanting in animation to the close of the week, owing to a panic and to numerous failures on the Vienna Bourse. The Berlin and Frankfort Bourses have also been affected, and have been depressed; but the effect here has been chiefly confined to a few foreign stocks, and principally French and Italian. In this market there is an almost complete indisposition to operate, owing to the uncertainty which prevails respecting the future course of the money market. The changes in prices are generally adverse, but are not very important. The following were the closing prices of consols and the principal American securities this afternoon:

We have enjoyed a week of fine, spring-like weather. There has been a moderate fall of rain, mirgled with warm sunshine. Vegetation has made rapid progress therefore, and the agricultural prospect is as encouraging as could be desired. But, in spite of this, and of the fact that there are now as many as 312 cargoes of wheat afloat to the United Kingdom, which represent at least 1,750,000 quarters, or 14,000,000 bushels, there is considerable firmness in the wheat trade, and the value of sound produce is maintained. The reason is obvious, Our requirements were never so large as they are at the present time, for so bad a crop has never been harvested for many years. Our stocks are low, for there is no foreign grain accumulating at the outports, and the quality of the Euglish crop remaining is very inferior. Hence good foreign wheat, especially red, commands a ready sale; but the trade is technically called slow, because importers meet the demand freely. But, however sellers may choose to describe it, one thing is evident-that if, as the annexed return shows, we have imported nearly 36,000,000 ewt. of wheat and flour since the 1st of September last, while there has been a diminution rather than an increase in the stocks of foreign produce, a large trade has been carried on. The margin of profit has been small, but it is more than probable that the magnitude of the transactions has resulted in a very satisfactory return. The following letter from Mr. Mechi, respecting the crops, is interesting:

A general and copious rain, after several weeks of very cold, retarding, out dry weather, has greatly changed and improved our retarding, out dry weather, has greatly changed and improved our agricultural and fruit prospects, especially as regards the large breadth of spring-sown wheat, also barley and oats.

The wheat plant is now putting forth its spring or surface roots, and, concurrently, that happy tillering of the stems and curling of the leaves, which are always promising symptoms. The season is also propitious for the potato crop. Apples, pears, and cherries are likely to be abundant; beans, peas, clover, tares, and pastures promise well. Land will now be in fit condition for root crops, sown and to be sown.

POSTSCRIPT.

LONDON, Saturday Evening.

FURTHER ADVANCE IN THE BANK RATE.—The directors of the Bank of England have further advanced their minimum rate of discount to five per cent. The movement has not attracted much attention, as most persons were of the opinion that that quotation ought to have been adopted on Wednesday last. There is no doubt that the German demand for gold is the cause of the upward movement, and it is more than probable that the orders for gold have been angmented by the panie at the Vienna, Berlin and Frankfort Bourses. But if that be the case, and if our money market has acquired comparative stringency by over speculation in Germany, it may be fairly argued that the difficulty, if such it may be called, is but a temporary one, as the speculation in Germany and Austria has been to a large extent in companies which have failed to interest the British public. The intensity of the panic, so far as we are concerned, cannot be considerable, as such stocks as Egyptian, Turkish, United States and Italian, in which the Germans are acknowledged to be large operators, have not fluctuated to an extent demanding the application of the word " panie."

The joint stock banks and discount houses allow 4 per cent for money at call, and 4½ per cent if with seven or fourteen days notice of withdrawal.

New Jersey & Delaware Central Railroad.—A meeting of the corporators of the New Jersey & Delaware Central Railway was held in Wilmington, Del., on Monday last. This road is designed as an "air-line" from New York to Washington. It will commence at Jersey City, or some point opposite New York, and pass through Mt. Holley, Bordentown and Salem. At the latter place, it will cross the Delaware river, by large ferry boats, to Pert Penn, Del., thence to Odessa, and through various towns, to Washington. At this meeting one thousand shares were subscribed to at one hundred dollars per share. The following officers were elected: President, Benj. F. Smith, New York; Vice-President, Wm. Bell, New York; Secretary. Samnel H. Robbins, Allentown, N. J.; Treasurer, Edward Howe, President of Princeton National Bank, Princeton, N. J.; Engineer, Robert S. Van Rensalear, Bordentown, N. J.; Directors, Benj. F. Smith, New York; Wm. Bell, New York; S. H. Robbins, New Jersey; John Jamlsen, Philadelphia; Jos. D. Pancoast, New Jersey; John Jamlsen, Philadelphia; Jos. D. Pancoast, New Jersey; Samuel Townsend, Townsend, Del.; Henry Cleaver, Port Penn, Del.

The Big Sandy Railroad.—The Staunton Spectator says that President Huntingdon, of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad, has informed one of the contractors on the Big Sandy Railroad that the money was on hand to go to work on the road within thirty days. The proposed Big Sandy Railroad is to run from Mount Sterling, Kentucky, to the mouth of the Big Sandy, which is only nine miles below Huntingdon, the terminus of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad. It is eighty-six miles from the mouth of the Big Sandy to Mount Sterling. The contractors for this road are composed very largely of the same men who have taken the contract for the Valley Railroad from Staunton to Salem.

Central of Long Island.—Ten miles of the extension of the Central Railread of Long Island were opened, east of Garden City, last week, and three trains per day will now run through from Long Island City to Farmingdale. Of the aeven miles not completed, between Farmingdale and Babylon, two are graded, and a large force of workmen is engaged on the rest. Great quantities of ties and rails are receiving daily at Long Island City, and the early completion of the road is now certain.

—An adjourned meeting of the stockholders of the St. Louis, Alton & Terre Haute Railroad Company will be held at No. 67 Wall street on Saturday the 24th instant, at 3 o'clock P. M.

NEW YORK, May 23, 1873.

The 7-30 First Mortgage Gold Loan of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company is to be clesed and withdrawn from market in accordance with the following resolutions adopted by the Board of Directors on the 13th of May:

Whereas, The Northern Pacific Railroad Company has built and has in operation over five hundred miles of its line through a favorable and valuable country;

And, Whereas, A large and growing way and through traffic is already assured to the company over its road thus far completed;

And, Whereas. The company has earned title to about ten million acres of its land grant, and placed a large part of this in market, and the same is being rapidly settled by immigration, foreign and domestic, and sales thereof have been made at an average price of nearly six dollars per acre, to such an extent that a sinking fund has resulted, out of which the redemption and cancellation of the company's bonds have been begun;

And, Whereas, it is believed that on these results the credit of the company is so established as to render inexpedient the payment of so high a rate of interest as 7 3-10 per cent on future issues of its bonds:

Therefore. Resolved, That the loan of the company, under its present issue, bearing 7 3-10 per cent interest, be limited to a tetal amount not exceeding thirty millions of dollars, and that no issue of bonds, hereafter, by this company, beyond the said thirty millions, shall bear a higher rate of interest than six per cent per annum.

Resolved, That the Finance Committee he directed to arrange with the Fiscal Agents for the closing out of the 7 3-10 loan, as indicated in the preceding preamble and resolution.

The President of the company, in forwarding these resolutions to the Fiscal Agents, writes the following letter:

> NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY,) President's Office, 23 Fifth Avenue, NEW YORK, May 15, 1873.

GENTLEMEN: I have the pleasure of enclosing to you a copy of a resolution passed unanimously by the Board of Directors of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, on the 13th of May, instant.

This preamble and resolve are in entire harmony with my own views and wishes, and agree in spirit and policy with the letter which I addressed to you on the 11th day of December last.

The completion of our road to the Missouri river, and our control of the trade of Manitoba and Montana-the beauty and productiveness of the Red River Valley, and the valleys of Dakotathe value of the large Government trade to the Upper Missouri, for the carrying of most of which we have this year contractedour having in operation and under contract, 165 miles of road on the Pacific side, between Puget Sound and the Columbia Riverthe very successful inauguration of our immigration system, the large arrivals from Europe of bodies of colonists of the very best character, destined to our land grant, and the steady movement of settlers from various parts of the Union to the country tribu. tary to the road-all this should, in my judgment, justify us in elevating the standard of our credit.

I trust that when the limit of the present loan is reached, the company will find itself able to negotiate a six per cent loan for the presecution and completion of the enterprise.

Respectfully yours,

G. W. CASS, President.

THE REMAINDER OF THE SEVEN-THIRTY LOAN IS NOW BEING DISPOSED OF, and offers to investors the advantages of

Limited Amount,

Profitable Rate of Interest,

Satisfactory Security.

As the bonds of this issue are made receivable in payment for the company's land at 1.10, they will be in constant and increasing demand for this purpose, after the loan is closed-a fact which much enhances their value and attractiveness as an investment.

Other securities are received in exchange, at market rates.

TOLEDO, WABASH & WESTERN RAILROAD CO.'S SEVEN PER CENT MORTGAGE BONDS.

PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD COIN. Issued for the purchase of steel rails. Principal due 1893. Interest coupons payable February 1 and August 1 in the City of New York.

The Directors of this Trunk Line, between Toledo and St. Louis, comprising with its branches over 600 miles of completed road, have decided, in order to accommodate the great increase of traffic, to relay the ENTIRE LINE WITH STEEL RAILS; and for that purpose have issued $5,000,000 of 7 per cent Mortgage Gold Bonds.

The steady increase of business over this line will be rapidly and greatly augmented by its connection with the Canada Southern Railroad (which will be open for traffic in a few weeks), rendering the substitution of steel rails a necessity.

The net earnings for the year 1871 and 1872, after paying the interest on the Mortgage debt of the Company, were largely in excess of the amount necessary to pay the interest on this

The road has no floating debt. All the proceeds of these Bonds go to the permanent improvement of the property, experience having proved that by substituting steel for Iron rails on roads doing so heavy a traffic, the "saving" alone, without any allowance for increase of business, is sufficient to pay off at least four times the amount of this Mertgage before maturity. The advantage of employing steel rails is so great that all our Trank Lines are adopting them, to the exclusion of iron ones.

As the Bonds will only be issued as fast as the rails can be laid, we now offer for sale but $1,000,000, AT NINETY, AND ACCRUED INTEREST IN CURRENCY.

The large earnings of this road, with its future prospects, make this Bond, in our opinion, an undoubted security.

NEW YORK, May 19, 1873.

The present high price of Government Securitles is increasing the demand for first-class railroad bonds; and it is not reasonable to suppose that the present difference of from TWENTY to THIRTY per cent can be obtained for any great length of time.

We are recommending for exchanges or for new investments: The CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO SEVEN PER CENT MORT-GAGE BONDS, interest payable January and July, principal and interest payable in gold in New York City.

Only $3,000,000 of these bonds will be offered for sale at present. Price 90 and accrued interest.

They are amply secured, and a very desirable investment. The proceeds will be used in adding largely to the present equipment, and in extending the line from its present tide-water terminus at Richmond to deep water on the Chesapeake Bay, where the largest steamers in the world can load and unload alongside the cars.

Also, the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO SIX PERCENT BONDS, interest payable May and November: these bonds are issued in denominations of $100, $500 and $1,000. Price $8 and accrued interest. The road, 420 miles in length, is now completed, and the business offering is very large, and increasing daily.

We have just published a pamphlet giving a full description of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad and its advantages, and particular information concerning the agricultural, mineral and mechanical resources, the remarkable coal and iron deposits, and the opportunities for settlement, investment, and the employment of capital and labor in various industries along its route, copies of which may be had, free of charge, upon application in person or by mail.

Also, the WESTERN PACIFIC SIX PER CENTS at the market price, which is to-day 95, flat. These bonds are of $1,000 each; interest payable January and July. This road having been consolidated with the great CENTRAL PACIFIC, the payment of its bonds, principal and interest, is assumed by them.

We continue to deal in Government and Central Pacific Bonds receive deposits on which we allow interest, make collections execute orders at the Stock Exchange for cash, and conduct a general banking tusiness.

FRIDAY EVENING, May 23, 1873-6 P. M.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—There has been no change in the money market, and the prevailing rates on call loans have been 5@7 per cent. throughout the week, with some few exceptions as low as 4 per cent. The last bank state ment showed the effects of a continuation of the currency move. ment towards this city, in a considerable increase of the deposit line, but without a corresponding increase in the legal tender reserves. The excess of national bank notes is being felt, as usual at this period, and the same difficulty will probably be experienced at intervals so long as there is ne practical system of bank note redemption. The Treasury gave notice that at its regular gold sale this week one half of the payments would be required to be made in legal tenders.

In commercial paper business has hardly been as active as it was during the previous fortnight—the pressure of paper which came with the first relaxation in money being largely disposed of -and the bulk of transactions for first class paper have been within a range of 7@9 per cent. During the two weeks ending with Saturday last, May 17th, one firm of brokers informed us that they sold $4,000,000 chiefly of dry goods and railread paper, which may furnish some indication of the large business which has been done in this city since the beginning of the current menth.

As to foreign news, we neticed a feeling of renewed depression at the date of writing our last report, and the next day the Bank of England advanced their rate 1 per cent, from 5 to 6 per cent.; this action was largely precantionary, but as the Bank rate is, to a great extent, the thermometer of the financial temperament in Europe, it indicated a feeling of some excitement. The foreign advices have since been more favorable and show a better feeling in London and Germany; prices, to day, in London being decidedly strenger for consols and U. S. bonds. The bank lost £440,000 in bullion this week, but made no further change in its discount rate, which remains at 6 per cent, while the open market rate is reported 1@1 per cent lower.

The last Clearing-House statement of New York city banks (May 17) showed an increase of $350,025 in the excess above 25 per cent legal reserve, making the whole of such excess $4,970,275. The total liabilities were $235,323,300, and the reserves $63,801,100.

The following statement shows the changes from previous week and a comparison with 1872 and 1871:

United States Bonds .- The demand for Governments from the foreign bankers continues quite as active as at any previous time, and their orders to purchase seem to be constantly in advance of the supply they are able to get here at any one time, within a reasonable limit of prices. Bonds have largely advanced and still the orders to purchase come on without abatement. One prominent banking firm has purchased and shipped since April 1 about $10,000,000 of Government securities, of which some $7,000,000 were 5-20 coupon bends of 1867, and nearly the whole of these went to the Lendon market to supply English and four or five millions more, which would make the whole export of bonds since April 1 about $15,000,000.

The effect of this active demand from abroad has been seen in the steady advance of prices, and this at first resulted in drawing to this city very considerable amounts of Governments, received in small lots from all parts of the country. When the price was between 117 and 120 this movement towards New York was active, but recently it has dwindled down although prices are higher, and it appears at the moment as if the country had been drained of the floating stock of Governments. Prices closed strong with 5-20s of 1867 quoted at 1218@1214. At the Treasury purchase of $500,000 on Wednesday the offerings amounted t $1,635,350.

Closing prices daily have been as follows:

State and Railroad Bonds .- The volume of transactions in Southern State boods has been comparatively small. Tennessees and Virginias remain steady, a lew of the latter bonds having been bought on fereign orders; Georgia bonds continue to rule quite streng; for Louisianas there have been several orders this week received from parties in New Orleans, which seems to indicate that residents in that city entertain a more hopeful view of the State finances. In railroad bonds there has been a more active business than last week, particularly in the eld issues sold at the Stock Exchange. The high prices of government bonds must lead private holders to sell and invest in railroad securities, which pay a much better rate of interest, and can be selected with such care as to be perfectly secure.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks .- The stock market has been comparatively dull, except in a few specialties, particu larly Pacific Mail and Western Union Telegraph. Pacific Mail has fluctuated daily upon the various rumors and prospects concerning the election next week, and the uncertainty as to what party may obtain control of the company. Erie moves in accordance with the vibrations of the London market, where four fifths of the stock are new held, and has advanced about 3 per cent this week. Notwithstanding the duluess of the general market, prices were firmly held during all the early part of the week, and closed yesterday at an advance of from § to 1 per cent over the prices given in our last report ou Friday, 16th inst. To-day, however, weakness was the prevailing feature, and nearly all the Scotch investors. Other foreign bankers have probably shipped leading stocks closed at prices \( \frac{1}{2} \) to \( \frac{7}{6} \) per cent below the opening figures of the morning. An effort is being made to have the Stock Exchange close during the Summer at 3 P. M.

The Gold Market.—The market was comparatively quiet until Thursday, when there was considerable activity and an advance in the price. Te-day the movement was continued, and gold advanced to 118§ at the close, under the heavy purchases of some leading speculators. It is generally believed that one pacty is carrying a very large amount of gold, some reports saying ten to fifteen millions, and that the recent "short" sales made on the more favorable advices from Germany were taken advantage of to advance the price. On gold loans the rates paid for carrying to-day were 4, 3, 5, 3½ and 6 per cent. At the treasury sale of $1,500,000 on Thursday the total bids amounted to $6,275,000. Customs receipts of the week have been $2,291,000.

The following table will show the course of the geld premium each day of the past week;
